

FOOD MATTERS LIVE 2020 - discussing the future of food & health

25 August 2020

EUFIC is a supporter of Food Matters Live, which will take place on 13 and 14 October 2020 as a virtual experience with engaging and inclusive opportunities for the global food, drink and nutraceutical community to imagine, learn, connect and explore what's possible in a truly digital experience.

The virtual event will give participants an opportunity to:

- Explore the latest insights into food, drink, and nutrition via live webcasts , from the COVID-19 pandemic's impact on specialised nutrition to the future of packaging design.
- Hear food and drink experts discuss the latest insights via live webcasts and Q&A sessions.
- Make valuable connections via Match, your personalised virtual meeting platform, connecting you with ingredient innovators and buyers via 1-2-1 meetings.

In its original format in presence, Dr. Milka Sokolović, EUFIC Head of Food and Health Science, was invited to share EUFIC's experience on healthy and sustainable diets. However, due to the virtual setting of this edition, her participation is now postponed to the 2021 edition of the event.

You can register here for the Food Matters Live 2020 virtual event.